HOW TO RECRUIT

UGA Computer Science Students

5 ways for employers to engage with students

Primary contacts for recruiting include: Brad Barnes - CS Undergraduate Coordinator - barnes@cs.uga.edu Samantha Perrin - Career Consultant - samantha.perrin@uga.edu

01

Promote Open Positions

Send an e-mail to Brad Barnes with a description of the employment opportunity and how students should respond. Brad will send this out on the Computer Science listserv to all CS students. You should also post your position for free on Handshake, UGA's job/internship board, at www.hireuga.com and share your posting with Samantha Perrin.

O2 Increase Exposure on Campus

Companies can reserve a table in the Boyd Atrium on a Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday morning or afternoon for the Computer Science Employer Spotlight. Employers are able to meet with a large number of students as they make their way to class. Companies normally provide door prizes and/or free food. To schedule a date, contact Brad Barnes.

Interview Students on Campus

The UGA Career Center provides interview space for employers to meet with students right on campus! You can learn more about interviewing on campus at http://career.uga.edu/hireuga/campus_interviews. You can also contact Samantha Perrin for more information

Present to Students

The Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) is the department's primary student organization. ACM hosts monthly "Career Nights" where employers can present to students about their company and opportunities. Reach out to ACM Faculty Advisor, Brad Barnes, for more information.

Partcipate in Career Fairs

The UGA Career Center holds a Fall and Spring Career Fair each year geared towards students of all majors and interests. Additionally, the Computer Science department will be hosting a CS Career Fair. Contact Samantha Perrin at samantha.perrin@uga.edu for more information about either of these events.
